Week 3

Around the World

Summer Rec Camp

Wow...we traveled a lot this week!

Monday, we started off in Iceland and learned some things about this sparsely populated and beautiful country. We had Iceland Trivia, so the campers learned some things about this country filled with so many natural wonders. We also had a BINGO contest with each of our groups. Teeny, Tiny trophies were awarded to each group's winner. In art, campers made Icelandic landscape paintings.

On Tuesday, Campers traveled to Barcelona, Spain. Our campers made "stained glass" artwork and Postcards from Spain as Art Projects.

We also had Trivia Day, and our Trivia Winners all won some of those Teeny, Tiny Trophies.

Bags packed, on Wednesday we went to Ireland. Trivia continued with lots of fun facts about Ireland. In art, campers made "Ireland Flags". And...in an effort to beat the heat, campers had ice pops!

On Thursday, we came back to the states, so to speak, and had Hawaiian Day.

This is always one of the favorite days for our campers. Campers were greeted on Thursday with a lei upon arrival to camp. We listened to some fun Hawaiian music throughout the day and had a Luau party. "DJ Madison" and her helper Bailey got the crowd going with a "ChaCha Slide"

Dance Off with all of the campers. Then we moved onto our Hula Hoop Contest. We wrapped up our Luau party with our Limbo Contest. We got three lines of Limbo going to find our winners (so great to be young and flexible!). Our winners all got to pick from our prize boxes to celebrate their "wins".

In art, our campers got to make beautiful tissue paper flowers.

We celebrated some birthdays this week including Mr. Philip and Camper Marcelino C. We found out both of these individuals share the same birthday, but we can't tell you how many years are in between them!

Finally, on Friday, we went to the Caribbean and looked for buried treasure left behind by all of the pirates known to frequent this region of the world. Campers searched for gold coins and rare gems.

“Mr. Bill” from Talewise came to visit the campers today and teach the campers some fun science facts through a very interactive set of experiments. Campers had a lot of fun.

Our Big week-long Trivia Contest Winners ended up being our 5/6 girls although our K group was a very close second.

Thank you for sharing your campers with us this week. I know they must be exhausted from all of this traveling. We hope to see everyone back again next week for “As Seen on TV” when we have fun playing some of our favorite gameshows from TV. Remember—Wednesday is “Shark Tank”. If your camper has an idea for an invention they would like to “pitch” to the sharks, let us know!

Enjoy the weekend!
